CONTINUING THE CONVERSATION

1. Can you name a woman, outside of your family, who has encouraged, taught, and/or influenced you, especially in your faith? Talk about her, and how she touched you.

2. In John 4, Jesus breaks religious rules about being with and talking to a woman. In breaking convention, he honored her, entered into her story (with great care and appropriateness), pointed to himself as her savior, and ultimately lifted her to be the first witness to Jesus recorded. What do you think changed her into a free and vocal follower of Jesus? (See esp. vv. 25-30 and 39-42)

3. John 4:27 says "Just then his disciples came back. They were shocked. They couldn't believe he was talking with that kind of a woman. No one said what they were all thinking, but their faces showed it." (The Message) What made their reaction to the woman so different from Jesus's? How can men be better at honoring women?

4. Pray for the woman you talked about, and for women in your life, that they will be strengthened and encouraged as representatives of Jesus to the world he loves.

PREPARING FOR WORSHIP

"This is an age for spiritual heroes - a time for men and women to be heroic in their faith and in spiritual character and power."
